ABOUT SAINT JOHN

1.1 HISTORIC SAINT JOHN:

The first people to live here over 12,000 years ago were the Wolastoqiyik who called this land Menahkwesk. During the summer, the Wolastoqiyik resided in villages along the Wolastoq River, living off bass, sturgeon, salmon, wild roots, and berries. They also planted corn, harvesting it at the end of summer before their migratory winter hunt of moose and bear. Birch tree bark was central to Wolastoqiyik culture, as they used it to cover wigwams and make canoes. Today, Wolastoqiyik continue to live in Saint John and the surrounding area.

In 1604, explorers from France, led by Sieur de Monts and Samuel de Champlain, arrived at the mouth of the Wolastoq River on June 24th. This date is known as “St. John the Baptist Day”, and they called the river, and the land, “St. John”.

French settlers colonized the area in 1631, building a fortress at the mouth of the river known as Fort La Tour. In the 1700's the fortress was destroyed by the governor of Acadia, and French settlers known as Acadiens settled along the river. The British and the French fought over who owned the land, and the Acadiens were forcefully deported from the area. The British built fortresses and permanent British settlement began.

ABOUT SAINT JOHN

In 1783, a large influx of refugees from the American Revolutionary War arrived in Saint John. These “Loyalists” wished to remain loyal to the British rule. They settled the communities of Parr Town and Carleton. In 1785, by Royal Charter, the two communities merged to form Saint John, Canada’s first incorporated city.

Also referred to as “the Port City,” Saint John became a leading industrial centre in the nineteenth century, predominantly due to the shipbuilding trade. The city quickly grew, with the largest influx of immigrants occurring during the Irish famine of the 1840’s, adding “Canada’s most Irish City” to its list of names.

The City’s harbour has welcomed people from across the globe, leaving an imprint on Saint John history through culture, architecture, and traditions.

HEALTH CARE

HEALTH CARE

2.1 NEW BRUNSWICK HEALTH CARE

“Medicare” is a term that refers to Canada’s publicly funded health care system. Instead of having a single national plan, we have 13 provincial and territorial health care insurance plans. Under this system, all Canadian residents have reasonable access to medically necessary hospital and physician services without paying out-of-pocket.

All members of a family must have their own Medicare card.

To apply for your Medicare Card:

Service New Brunswick office

15 King Square North,

Saint John, NB

 1-888-762-8600

 www.snb.ca

To be eligible for New Brunswick Medicare coverage you must be:

- A Canadian citizen OR legally entitled to remain in Canada and a resident who makes his/her permanent and principle home in New Brunswick (PR) OR an international student who meets the eligibility criteria.

If you have moved to New Brunswick from another country, you must apply for Medicare at the Service New Brunswick offices (with the appropriate documents listed in the next section). It may take up to 6 weeks for approval. Your card will be sent to your home by mail. During this wait time you can pay for medical services out-of-pocket or choose to purchase personal health insurance. If you are a post-secondary student, your school may have an insurance program – contact them for more details.

What is covered by Medicare?

Visits to your family doctor and specialist, necessary medical procedures, hospital stays, and drugs administered in hospital are all paid for through Medicare.

What is not covered by Medicare?

The cost of prescription drugs, ambulance services, vision care and glasses, cosmetic procedures, and dental care are generally not covered. Patients are responsible for paying the service provider for these services.

HEALTH CARE

If you have moved to New Brunswick from another province in Canada, there is a three-month waiting period before you become eligible for NB Medicare coverage.

When applying for your Medicare care, you must provide three documents (one from each of the categories below):

1. Proof of Citizenship/Status

2. Proof of Identification: Choose one of the following documents

- Birth Certificate; Valid New Brunswick Driver's Licence
- Valid Passport (Canadian or foreign)

- Active Temporary Resident Permit issued by Citizenship and Immigration Canada
- Certificate of Canadian Citizenship
- Legal Name Change Document
- Student or Employee ID Card

3. Acceptable proof of Residency: Choose one of the following documents

- Mortgage Document
- Rental or Lease Agreement (must be signed by landlord & tenant)
- Utility Bill - not older than two months

Note that ambulance calls will result in a bill for $130.60, so only call an ambulance if it is an emergency. Otherwise, call Telecare 811 (see below), or drive/taxi to the hospital.

In Canada, the Police protect and serve the citizens, and you should not be afraid to call them if you need help.

Patient Connect NB is designed to help New Brunswick residents find a primary health care provider (family doctor or nurse practitioner) if they do not currently have one. The program will work to find you a primary health care provider in your area. Your information will be used to determine your health needs, refer you to a provider and to contact you to ensure that you are still looking for a provider.

TRANSPORTATION

Safety

In Canada, vehicles drive on the right side of the road.

• Seatbelts and Car Seats

Everyone in the car must wear seatbelts when the vehicle is moving. You can only have as many passengers as there are seatbelts. Children must be in the correct size car seat until they are nine years old, weigh at least 36 kilograms (79 pounds), or be at least 145 centimetres (57 inches) tall. Car seats must always be in the back seat and properly fastened. New babies must face backwards in their car seats. Babies and children cannot be held in parents' arms or on their laps.

Guidelines on child car seat safety: www.tc.gc.ca

Alcohol and Drugs

The Criminal Code prohibits driving while impaired to any degree by drugs, alcohol, or a combination of both. Penalties for this offence range from a mandatory minimum fine of $1000 to life imprisonment, depending on the severity of the offence. It is also against the law to have open alcohol in your vehicle.

For more information visit: www.justice.gc.ca

School Buses

It is a crime to pass a yellow school bus when it has stopped for children to enter or exit, or when its lights are flashing.

Emergency Vehicles

If you hear or see an ambulance, fire truck, or police vehicle with its flashing lights and siren on, pull over to the side of the road to let it pass you.

TRANSPORTATION

3.3 ACTIVE TRANSPORTATION

Cross Walks

What is a Crosswalk?

A crosswalk is the area on a road where pedestrians have the right (with certain responsibilities) to get from one side of the road to another. Crosswalks exist at all intersections of streets whether or not there are crosswalk lines and signs or sidewalks. Crosswalks also exist everywhere else on a road where crosswalk lines and signs are in place.

As a motorist you must let a pedestrian cross the street at all crosswalks, whether the crosswalk is marked or not. You must not pass another vehicle when that vehicle is stopped at a crosswalk for a pedestrian.

As a pedestrian, you are allowed to cross the street only at a crosswalk. You must not suddenly begin crossing the street in a way that does not allow a motorist to yield to you.

When facing a signal for a pedestrian you must enter the crosswalk only when the signal shows the white outline of a person and not when the orange outline of a hand is shown blinking or steady. The blinking outline of the hand will often start when you begin walking along a crosswalk but you have enough time to cross the street before other vehicles can move as long as you started crossing when the white outline of a person was showing.

TIP:

Extending your arm prior to and during crossing will help let the drivers know you wish to cross.

TRANSPORTATION

3.4 CYCLING

Many city streets have a bike lane between the side walk and the road, which allows cyclist to drive on the road. Cyclists must wear helmets and observe the same rules of the road as motorists.

3.5 TIPS

- Street Names: Saint John consists of towns that amalgamated to form The City of Saint John, but the street names didn't change. So we have streets with similar names, such as Duke Street, Charlotte Street, and Mount Pleasant in different areas of the City. Check ahead using google maps to make sure you arrive at the correct destination.
- Funerals: In Saint John, it is customary (but not a rule) for cars and pedestrians to stop when a funeral procession passes.
- Tinted Windows: It is illegal to have tinted windows in your vehicle.
- Handicap Parking: Saint John's streets and parking lots have parking spaces designed for people displaying a handicap parking pass. They are often marked with a blue logo or a blue parking meter. It is illegal to park in these spaces without a handicap parking pass.
- Turning Right on a Red Light: Unless otherwise marked, it is legal to turn right on a red light.
- Residential Parking Permits are issued to residents of the South/Central Peninsula who want to park their cars on the street overnight.

TIP:

City buses often have bike racks on the front of the bus, so you can transport your bike with you.

The City of Saint John will collect your garbage if you live in a house. Many larger rental units have private garbage collection. Check with your landlord about garbage collection days/time.

Garbage is divided into five categories:

- Compost: Composting reduces landfill waste. Vegetable peelings, fruit, meat, grass clippings, leaves and other organic waste is composted to create new soil. Most homes have a small green bin to gather compost and a larger green bin to place at the side of the road for collection.
- Recycling: You can reduce household waste by 50% when you recycle. You can collect your cardboard, boxboard, plastic, metal, and milk containers in a bin, and drop them off at one of the many Blue Bin recycling depots located throughout the city.

- Trash: Anything that doesn't fall into one of the above categories must be placed in a large garbage bag and placed at your curb on garbage collection day. Many people place their large bags in a garbage bin, to prevent birds or animals from interfering with the trash. For more information about the landfill, visit:

Saint John City Market

Open year-round, the Saint John City Market offers a unique cultural experience. Famous for its variety of local crafts, art, and cuisine, the Market is the oldest continuing farmers market in Canada, and a gathering place for locals and visitors. During the summer months, a weekly Night Market takes place along South Market Street, with an assortment of local vendors and live music.

The Royal Charter establishing the City of Saint John in 1785 provided for the operation of public markets, naming the Mayor of the city as Clerk of the Market with power to grant licenses to farmers, craftspeople and others to peddle their wares. Each license bore the Mayor's seal and commanded a fee which comprised a portion of the Mayor's compensation at that time.

The Crest of the City of Saint John holds a prominent position above the Germain Street entrance. The official seal of the city, its symbols tell the story of a proud history in fishing, forestry, shipping and industry - the strengths of our forebearers and still our strengths today.

13.7 WINTER IN SAINT JOHN

The winter in Saint John can be mild or cold. We often see the first snow in November, but it may melt quickly. January and February are the months of the most snow storms, and the snow generally stays on the ground until the spring. During the winter, many people plan indoor activities; however there is plenty to do outside, including downhill and cross country skiing, skating, sliding (tobogganing) and building a snowman.

In the winter, people wear warm coats, winter boots, and gloves/mittens, and scarves. You may not need them every day, as the temperature varies from day to day, but you should always be prepared for cold weather.

LIVING IN SAINT JOHN

Frozen Pipes

In the winter months, plumbing pipes may freeze in very cold weather if not properly insulated. If you plan on being away from home on vacation or travels, leave the water running a bit to ensure the pipes don't freeze.

Shoveling

When the snow accumulates outside, residents will need to shovel their pathways, stairs, and driveways. You may also need to shovel the sidewalk in front of your home depending on where you live.

Keep a bag of road salt at your home and spread a thin layer of salt on the ice or snow in your driveway or walkway, which will then melt over time. Be sure to check with your landlord to find out who is responsible for shoveling and salting.

TIP:

Never pour water on your ice or snow, thinking it will speed up the melting process. The water will freeze into a sheet of ice, making it more dangerous.

Driving and Vehicle Care

Driving in the winter months can involve many factors. The roads can be clean and dry, frozen and covered with frost, snowy, or have compacted ice. Most Canadian drivers put snow tires on their vehicles in the winter. It may take you a while to be comfortable driving in the winter, and it is always important to be cautious. Drive slowly, accelerate and decelerate slowly.

Black Ice refers to frozen roads that may not look dangerous but are hazardous.

When the temperature gets colder, you may notice the condensation on the interior or exterior of your car windows will freeze. Keep a small hand held ice scraper in your car for this. Made of safe plastic, the scraper allows you to remove the ice and frost without damaging your windows.

When the snow falls, you will need a snow brush (many have ice scrapers on the end). You will need to remove snow from all windows of your car, as well as the hood and roof.

It is a good idea to plan ahead on cold mornings and allow yourself extra time to de-ice and warm up your car. NEVER IDLE YOUR CAR IN A GARAGE TO AVOID CARBON MONOXIDE POISONING

Snow Ban Parking

The City may declare a snow ban for all or any of the streets of Saint John when it is necessary for the safe and efficient removal or movement of snow or ice. Once a parking ban has been declared between the hours of 11:00 p.m. (South Central Peninsula) and 12:00 a.m. (North, East and West) and 7:00 a.m. the following day. Any vehicles remaining on a street when the parking ban is in effect will be ticketed and/or towed at the owner's risk and expense.

Temporary parking bans allow snow plows to push snow back to the curb on all streets to maintain access through the streets.

If you live or work in a Snow Ban area, the City provides parking lots for your car during the ban.
